Pairs:

The pairing/grouping cards have 5 different pairs on them. You can tell the students to pair by the center clue, top left clue, top right clue, bottom left clue, or the bottom right clue. I like having several options on the cards so the students cannot swap cards so that they end up with friends - teachers do this too!

Groups:

If I choose to have groups in my class, I have the students find their pair first. Then I tell the students to find an "odd" pair or an "even" pair. This will create groups of four. You could also have the students pair up and then tell them, "If you are a person pair, find a food pair."
